IMPORTANT: BMO Hong Kong Banks ETF is established under BMO ETF, an umbrella unit trust. Commissions, management fees and expenses all may be associated with this Sub-Fund. It may not be suitable for all investors and investors should not invest based on this marketing material alone. Investors should exercise caution before investing and read the BMO ETF prospectus (available at www.bmo.hk/etfs) for further details, including product features and risk factors. ETFs are not guaranteed and past performance is not indicative of future performance. Investment involves risks. The value of investments and the income from them can go down as well as up as a result of stock market and currency movements, and investors may not get back the original amount invested.

- BMO Hong Kong Banks ETF aims to provide investment results that, before fees and expenses, closely correspond to the performance of the NASDAQ Hong Kong Banks™ Index. This Sub-Fund primarily invests in securities that are listed on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited and classified as Banks by the Industry Classification Benchmark (ICB).
- This Sub-Fund is subject to concentration risk as a result of tracking the performance of a single geographical region (Hong Kong) and sector (banking). It is likely to be more volatile than a broad-based fund as it is more susceptible to fluctuations in value resulting from adverse conditions in Hong Kong and the banking sector. Stock prices of financial service companies are also more sensitive to the movement of interest rates.
- The units of the Sub-Fund may trade at a substantial premium or discount to their NAV.
- The Sub-Fund is subject to tracking error risks due to factors such as fees and expenses and the representative sampling strategy that may be adopted by the Manager.
