IMPORTANT RISK WARNINGS / FUND INFORMATION FOR HONG KONG INVESTORS

- Hang Seng Index ETF (the "HSI ETF") is an index-tracking fund which aims to match, before expenses, as closely as practicable the performance of the Hang Seng Index (the "Index"). The HSI ETF invests primarily in the constituent stocks of the Index.
- The HSI ETF is different from a typical unit trust as it is listed on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited, and like other listed stocks, carry similar risks such as liquidity risk and risk of trading suspension. The market price per Unit could be significantly higher or lower than its Net Asset Value per Unit due to market demand and supply, liquidity and scale of trading spread in the secondary market and will fluctuate during the trading day.
- The HSI ETF is subject to tracking error risks, risks associated with passive investments, risks of concentration of investments in a single market/several constituent stocks of the Index and risks associated with investments in mainland China (an emerging market).
- The HSI ETF is also subject to dual counter risks, RMB trading and settlement risks, RMB currency and foreign exchange risks and reliance on market maker risks.
- The Manager may, at its discretion, pay dividend out of capital. The Manager may also, at its discretion, pay dividend out of gross income while all or part of the fees and expenses of the HSI ETF are charged to/paid out of the capital of the HSI ETF, resulting in an increase in distributable income for the payment of dividends by the HSI ETF may effectively pay dividend out of capital. Payment of dividends out of capital or effectively out of capital amounts to a return or withdrawal of part of an investor's original investment or from any capital gains attributable to that original investment. Any distributions involving payment of dividends out of the capital of the HSI ETF or effectively out of the capital of the HSI ETF may result in an immediate reduction of the Net Asset Value per Unit of the HSI ETF.
- Investment involves risks and investors may lose substantial part of their investment in the HSI ETF.
- Investors should not only base on this factsheet alone to make investment decisions, but should read the HSI ETF's offering documents (including the full text of the risk factors stated therein) in detail.
