3121 HK

Data as of July 31, 2017

IMPORTANT: BMO MSCI Asia Pacific Real Estate ETF is established under BMO ETF, an umbrella unit trust. Commissions, management fees and expenses all may be associated with this Sub-Fund. It may not be suitable for all investors and investors should not invest based on this marketing material alone. Investors should exercise caution before investing and read the BMO ETF prospectus (available at www.bmo.hk/etfs) for further details, including product features and risk factors. ETFs are not guaranteed and past performance is not indicative of future performance. Investment involves risks. The value of investments and the income from them can go down as well as up as a result of stock market and currency movements, and investors may not get back the original amount invested.

- BMO MSCI Asia Pacific Real Estate ETF aims to provide investment results that, before fees and expenses, closely correspond to the performance of the MSCI AC Asia Pacific Real Estate Index.
- This Sub-Fund primarily invests in securities in the real estate sector in the Asia Pacific region, including real estate investment trusts (REITs). This Sub-Fund is subject to concentration risk as a result of tracking the performance of a single geographical region (Asia) and industry (real estate sector). It is likely to be more volatile than a broad-based fund as it is more susceptible to fluctuations in value resulting from adverse conditions in Asia and the real estate sector. There are risks associated with the real estate sector and REITs in particular.
- Investing in emerging markets involves a greater risk of loss than investing in more developed markets due to, among other factors, greater political, tax, economic, foreign exchange, liquidity and regulatory risks.
- The units of the Sub-Fund may trade at a substantial premium or discount to their NAV.
- The Sub-Fund is subject to tracking error risks due to factors such as fees and expenses and the representative sampling strategy that may be adopted by the Manager.

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

The investment objective of the BMO MSCI Asia Pacific Real Estate ETF is to provide investment results that, before fees and expenses, closely correspond to the performance of the MSCI Asia Pacific Real Estate Index.

BENEFITS FOR INVESTORS

FIRST ETF of its kind in Hong Kong, offering investors:

- Broad exposure to the Asia Pacific real estate sector including landlords, developers and operators of properties
- Diversified Asia Pacific regional coverage across 10 countries, dominated by Japan, Hong Kong, Australia, China and Singapore
- Exposure to income oriented investments such as REITs and more growth oriented real estate development companies
- Easy access to a diversified portfolio of institutional quality real estate investments

INDEX INFORMATION

The Index is a free float adjusted modified market capitalization weighted index which consists of large- and mid-capitalisation securities classified in the Real Estate industry group, according to the Global Industry Classification Standard (GICS®) from 13 markets in Asia.

The equity universe of the Index includes listed equity securities, real estate investment trusts ("REITs") and preferred shares. In order to achieve index continuity and provide further diversification, a minimum number of 5 constituents will be maintained for each developed market country and a minimum of 3 constituents will be maintained for each emerging market country.

The index was launched on November 1, 2015 and is denominated in HKD. The constituents of the index are rebalanced quarterly.
