Important Note :

1. E Fund CES China 120 Index ETF (the "Sub-Fund") is a passively managed exchange traded fund ("ETF") and is traded on the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong ("SEHK") like stocks. The investment objective is to provide investment result that, before fees and expenses, closely corresponds to the performance of the CES China 120 Index (the "Index"). The Sub-Fund invests in the PRC's domestic securities market through the Manager's status as a RMB Qualified Foreign Institutional Investor ("RQFII") as well as SEHK-listed stocks.
2. The Sub-Fund is subject to a) Investment risk, b) Concentration risk, c) RQFII regime related risks, d) Risks associated with the Stock Connect, e) RMB trading and settlement of Units risks, f) Dual counter risks, g) Combination of cash and in-kind redemption risk, h) PRC related risks, i) PRC tax risk, j) RMB currency risk, k) Government intervention and restrictions risks, l) Trading differences risk, m) Passive investments risk, n) New Manager and reliance on Investment Adviser risk, o) New Index and New Index Provider risk, p) Cross border risk, q) Trading risks, r) Tracking error risk, s) Reliance on market maker risk and t) Termination risk.
3. Based on professional and independent tax advice, the Manager does not currently make withholding income tax provision for gross realised or unrealised capital gains derived from trading of A-Shares (either via Stock Connect or RQFII). There are risks and uncertainties associated with the current PRC tax laws, regulations and practice in respect of capital gains realised via RQFII quota or Stock Connect on investments in the PRC (which may have retrospective effect). Any increased tax liabilities on the Sub-Fund may adversely affect the Sub-Fund's value. If taxes are levied in future on the Sub-Fund for which no provision is made, the Sub-Fund's NAV will be adversely affected. In this case, the then existing and subsequent investors will be disadvantaged as they will bear for a disproportionately higher amount of tax liabilities as compared to the liability at the time of investment in the Sub-Fund.
4. You should not make any investment decision solely based on the information on this material alone. Please read the relevant offering documents for details including the risk factors before making any investment decisions.
