iShares NASDAQ 100 Index ETF

As of 31/07/2017

iShares[®]
by BLACKROCK[®]

IMPORTANT: Investment involves risk, including the loss of principal. Investors should refer to the Prospectus and Key Facts Statement of the iShares NASDAQ 100 Index ETF (the "ETF") for details, including the risk factors. Investors should not base investment decisions on this marketing material alone. Investors should note:

- The ETF aims to provide investment results that, before fees and expenses, closely correspond to the performance of the NASDAQ 100 Index.
- Due to the ETF's concentration in companies in the technology sector, the price volatility of the ETF may be greater than that of ETFs tracking more broad-based indices.
- All units will receive distributions in the base currency, USD, only. In the event that a unitholder has no USD account, the unitholder may have to bear the fees and charges associated with the conversion of such dividend distributions from USD to HKD, RMB or any other currency; and (ii) the other bank or financial institutional fees and charges associated with the handling of the distribution payment. Unitholders are advised to check with their brokers regarding arrangements for distribution.
- Investors may be subject to additional costs or losses associated with foreign currency fluctuations between the base currency and the HKD or RMB trading currency. Furthermore, RMB is currently not freely convertible and is subject to exchange controls and restrictions.
- The ETF may be subject to tracking error risk, which is the risk that its performance may not track that of the underlying index exactly.
- The units of the ETF are traded on the SEHK. The trading price of the units is subject to market forces and may trade at a substantial premium or discount to the ETF's NAV, which may also increase due to the differences in trading hours between the NASDAQ and the SEHK. As the NASDAQ may be open when units of the ETF are not priced, the securities' values in the ETF may change on days when investors cannot trade the units.
- The price of units traded in different counters may deviate significantly. If there is a suspension of the inter-counter transfer of units between the counters and/or any limitation on the level of services provided by brokers and CCASS participants, unitholders can only trade their units in one counter.
- The Manager may at its discretion pay distributions out of capital, or effectively out of capital, of the ETF. Payment of distributions out of capital or effectively out of capital amounts to a return or withdrawal of part of an investor's original investment or from any capital gains attributable to that original investment. Any such distributions may result in an immediate reduction of the NAV per unit.

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

The iShares NASDAQ 100 Index ETF seeks to track the performance of an index composed of 100 of the largest non-financial companies listed on the NASDAQ Stock Market.

GROWTH OF 10,000 HKD SINCE INCEPTION

Estimated Annual Tracking Difference = -0.32%

This is an estimated annual tracking difference.

Tracking Difference is the return difference between an ETF and its underlying index over a certain period of time.

Tracking Error measures how consistently an ETF follows its underlying index. It is the volatility (measured by standard deviation) of that return difference. Tracking Error is annualized based on the number of dealing days in the past year when daily tracking difference is calculated.

Performance is calculated based on NAV-to-NAV with dividend reinvested.

Performance is calculated in the base currency of the iShares Fund, including ongoing charges and taxes, and excluding your trading costs on SEHK.

Disclaimer: Unless otherwise specified, all information as of the month end. Sources: BlackRock and Nasdaq OMX. The above iShares Funds data is for information only. Investment involves risk, including possible loss of principal. Investment in emerging market countries may involve heightened risks such as increased volatility and lower trading volume, and may be subject to a greater risk of loss than investment in a developed country. Before deciding to invest, investors should read the Prospectus and Key Fact Statements for details, including the risk factors. Performance is calculated on NAV to NAV basis, inclusive of all transaction fees and assumes dividend reinvestment. The investment returns are denominated in base currency, which may be a foreign currency. If so, US/HK dollar-based investors are therefore exposed to fluctuations in the US/HK dollar/foreign currency exchange rate. Rates of exchange may cause the value of investments to go up or down. Investors may not get back the amount they invest. Individual stock prices/performance do not represent the return of the Fund. Investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when sold or redeemed, may be worth more or less than the original cost. Index returns are for illustrative purposes only and do not represent actual iShares Funds or iShares Trusts performance. Index performance returns do not reflect any management fees, transaction costs or expenses. Indexes are unmanaged and one cannot invest directly in an index. Past performance does not guarantee future results.
